RETAIL PRICE LIST

1962-63 SEASON

Although I contract early in the year for most all plants offered and keep obligation of stock records against each variety and species to insure that each customer's order will be completed, I do not guarantee the availability of any item offered, due to the many hazards in obtaining bulbs from the different parts of the world. The return of the purchase price paid for all unfilled items at any time will fulfill all obligations. Normally from November to April I carry stocks of most bulbs and can ship at once.

PRICES

MINIMUM PREPAID ORDER: $5.00

On orders of less than $5.00 add 50c for handling.

Prices unless otherwise noted are prepaid in the United States. Regular parcel post to Hawaii and Alaska is at customers risk. Airmail parcel post will be provided if requested at 50c extra per pound or per Amaryllis bulb. Prices are subject to change without notice. My liability will not exceed the purchase price of the bulbs paid for. Prices quoted are for blooming size bulbs unless otherwise noted.

USE THIS CATELOG NEXT YEAR

If something prevents you from placing an order this season, you may use this catalogue next season. Any reduction in price will be made in your favor.

Mailing cost are expensive. I send all regular customers an advance price list early in the season as well as my regular catalogue which is generally published in October. If you are not a customer, a copy of either of these will be provided you upon request.

TERMS

You may order at any time. I suggest early ordering particularly if you want scarce varieties. This will assure your getting the varieties you desire and will help others get what they want. You do not have to send payment with your order, but payment must be made before delivery. I do not accept COD orders.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Cultural directions will be sent to you with your bulb order.

AMERICAN AMARYLLIS SOCIETY

The American Amaryllis Society is an affiliate of the American Plant Life Society. The Amaryllis Year Book edited by Dr. Hamilton P. Traub is published each year devoted exclusively to the amaryllis. This is a very fine publication and anyone interested in amaryllis or any of the amaryllids will find a wealth of information in it that can not be obtained elsewhere. All persons or organizations interested in amaryllis and other plants are invited to become members.

The annual dues are $3.50 which entitles you to a copy of the Amaryllis Year Book. Payments should be sent to Dr. Thomas W. Whitaker, Executive Secretary, The American Plant Life Society, Box 150, La Jolla, California.

AMARYLLIS SHOWS

There are a number of amaryllis shows held each year. If you are near enough you should by all means enter your flowers in these shows. The shows are usually held from January on through April depending on the weather. If you can, please attend your nearest show. You will enjoy it and the people who work so hard to put them on will greatly appreciate the interest shown. The following is a list of the shows held each year.

Men's Amaryllis Show	Valdosta, Georgia
New Orleans Amaryllis Show	New Orleans, Louisiana
Men's Amaryllis Show of New Orleans	New Orleans, Louisiana
Panama City Amaryllis Show	Panama City, Florida
Hattiesburg Amaryllis Show	Hattiesburg, Mississippi
Houston Amaryllis Show	Houston, Texas
Greater Gulf Amaryllis Show	Mobile, Alabama
Corpus Christi Amaryllis Show	Corpus Christi, Texas
Oklahoma City Amaryllis Show	Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

If there is a show in your area that you would like for me to list please let me know.

NAMED VARIETIES

HYBRID DUTCH AMARYLLIS

All named varieties of Dutch Amaryllis listed here are grown in Holland by the originator of the variety and are, to the best of my knowledge, true to name and of the highest quality. All bulbs are top size, 28cm/ and larger except for Ludwig's which are fair size, mostly 28 cm and larger. Do not confuse top size for the smaller No. 1 size often sold as 82 cm size. No. 1 size bulbs are smaller 26/28 cm size.

Varieties registered by the American Amaryllis Society are shown with the registration number and the abbreviation for the originator, grower or dealer who registered them as follows:

(VM) Van Meeuwen's	(W) W. S. Warmenhoven
(L) Ludwig	(WW) W. Warmenhoven & Sons
(H) Harry Deleeuw Co.	(CW) Cees Warmenhoven
NR Not Registered	(PI) Pre-interduction

The number following the name indicates spike height and size of flower. The description of the varieties are my own as I have observed them or that of the originator.

Amaryllis bulbs are usually shipped from November through March.

ANGELL STRAIN OF BURBANK AMARYLLIS

(Shipped in Spring)

Developed after 30 years from two selected clones from Luther Burbank. Said to be hardier than the Mead strain, more vigorous, with flowers that rival the Dutch strains. Well expanded color range from pure white to darkest purplish red. Some clones flower as many as 5 times a year. Some have red foliage. A most worthwhile strain for foundation stock or for hybridizing. Offered in mixed colors only.

OFFERING OF AMARYLLIS SPECIES

I have just received descriptions of 6 new wild species amaryllis collected during a 6 weeks expedition into central Brazil. The collector lost 7 kilos during the trip and killed 9 snakes including 3 very large ones. I am very fortunate to receive these bulbs and some only a few of. I feel this may be your only chance to obtain these species for some years to come as one can not repeat such a trip without considerable expense. The Habitat Data and description is that of the collector.

AMARYLLIS SPECIES NO. SA 62-1

Habitat data;
Location: Brazil, Esperito Santo
Local name: Acucena
Flowering time: Sept.-Oct.
Altitude: 800 M
Average temperature growing season: 25 degrees C.
Light: Full sun
Drainage: Subsurface
Description: Large bright pink flower with near white center.

The above species is considered to belong in the Belladonna Group and is closely related to Apertispatha and may be a variety of this species. It also may be a pink belladonna or closely related species.

Largest size bulbs	$6.00
Medium size	$4.00
Small size	$3.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-2

Location: Brazil, state of Esperito Santo
Local name: Acucena
Date flowering in wilds: September
Altitude: 780 Meters
Average growing temperature: 27 degrees C.
Light exposure: full sun, grows on rocks.
Drainage: Subsurface.
Description: Large and round flower, light pink but darker than species SA62-1. Very difficult to collect on dangerous rocks.

This is beleived to be A. Apertispatha. I have a black and white photograph of this species and it appears much like A. Belladonna but larger with perfectly round whitish, yellow or greenish center.

Largest size bulbs	$7.50
Medium size	$6.00
Small size	$4.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-3

Location: Brazil, state, Esperito Santo.
Local name: Acucena
Date of flowering in wilds: August - September.
Altitude: 900 meters
Average temperature during growing season: 26 degrees C.
Light Exposure: On rocks, in full sun.
Drainage: Subsurface.
Description: The largest flowering species and also the most clear of the species collected during this trip.

The photograph the collector included of this species shows the flower to be as large as 8" or more with very airy form. The spike in the picture appears to be at least 3' tall and the bottom ran beneath the picture. Photo showed 3 or more flowers per spike. This is possibly a large variety of striata or closely related species and should be excellent in breeding.

Largest size bulb	$6.00
Medium size	$5.00
Small size	$4.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-4

Location: Brazil state, Esperito Santo at Vargim Alta.
Local name: Acucena
Date flowering in the wilds: September.
Altitude: 650 meters
Average temperature during growing season: 24 degrees C.
Light exposure: Half shade (on rocks always protected from direct sun)
Drainage: Subsurface
Description: Dark red flower, with white strias on each petal, very beautiful and rare.

Largest size bulbs	$10.00
Medium	$8.00
Small	$6.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-5

Location: Brazil, Rio de Janeiro, Cordeiro
 Local name: Acucena
 Date flowering in wilds: September
 Altitude: 830 meters
 Average temperature during growing season: 25 degrees C.
 Light exposure: half shadow; on rocks.
 Drainage: Subsurface
 Description: Dark pink flower with clear center, large flower.

Largest size	$7.50
Medium	$5.00
Small size	$4.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-6

Location: Brazil, Rio de Janeiro, Campos
 Local name: Acucena
 Date flowering in wilds: September - October
 Altitude: At sea level in sand.
 Average temperature during growing season: 24 degrees C.
 Light Exposure: half shadow.
 Drainage: Subsurface.
 Description: Lively pink-redish large flower; seems somewhat like the one collected in 1960 in Eastern Parana, sent to you as per my letter of September 8, 1960 but probably darker and larger.

The species referred to in the letter of Sept. 8, 1960 is species No 6/60 This species has not flowered for me but is believed to be a variety of A. aulica. Aulica is fall flowering and it is believed the collector possibly is referring to species 2/59 which was also from Parana and a small species not yet flowered.

Largest size bulbs	$7.50
Medium size	$5.00
Small	$4.00

AMARYLLIS SPECIES SA62-7

Location: Brazil, Santa Catarina, Corupa
 Local name: Lirio
 Date of flowering in wilds: October - November.
 Altitude: 60 meters.
 Average temperature during growing season: 18 to 20 degreesC.
 Light exposure: full sun
 Drainage: Subsurface
 Description: Very nice and floriferous, medium size flower, white with salmon color at the center of the petals.

The leaf received of this species was petalated and from the description of the flower this appears to be A. Blumenavia or a very close relative. The leaf received had a stem about 8 inches long and the leaf was oval and about 8" by 2". I have one bulb sent to me in bud with two scapes coming. The bulb is about 1" in diameter. With this bulb the species should be identified soon.

Largest bulbs	$7.50
Medium	$5.00
Small	$4.00

All the species above will be identified and the identification published as soon as practical.
